

HINCKLEY FESTIVAL ASSOCIATION FUNDRAISER

“ALL ABOUT HINCKLEY” STONEWARE CROCKS

Get your piece of Hinckley history today with an exclusive series of Stoneware Crock featuring drawings created by local artist and Hinckley resident, Ardith Trumpy.

Each top-quality crock will be numbered to add value to these beautiful keepsakes and will feature a blue-gray finish.

The crocks will be ordered separately, giving time to be created just for us!

If you order all three crocks in the series, in advance, you will receive the same number for each crock.

Proceeds from the sale of these crocks will be donated to Hinckley Fireworks and Harvesting Our Future.

ABOUT THE HINCKLEY FESTIVAL ASSOCIATION

The Hinckley Festival Association is a non-profit organization that hosts the annual Hinckley Fireworks Fest on the last Saturday in June. The Hinckley Fireworks Fest is a classic, small town festival geared for huge family fun! On Saturday, June 29, 2019, enjoy the Car Show, Bike Parade, Food Trucks, Craft Vendors, Bounce Houses, Pony Rides, Whiskey Romance Band & an incredible Fireworks Show at dusk! We pride ourselves on the fact that we are one of the few festivals in the area that is FREE to attend!

ABOUT HARVESTING OUR FUTURE

Through a grant funded by the Dekalb County Community Foundation, the Village of Hinckley and 25 community members created a strategic plan called Harvesting Our Future. This strategic plan has targeted ways to make our Village a more desirable place to live, shop, and maintain a business. Harvesting Our Future seeks to strengthen Hinckley's economy and improve the quality of life for residents through a series of planned projects starting the spring of 2019!

ABOUT THE ARTIST

Ardith Nash Trumpy describes herself as a hometown Hinckley girl, having been raised here by parents who were also raised here. After college, she and her husband Mark, decided Hinckley was a great place to settle down to raise their 3 children, embracing the familiarity of the small town. Having an art background, she was excited when approached to draw some Hinckley landmarks for this project. In addition to art, Ardith and her husband enjoy sailing, and spending time with their children and four little grandchildren, three of which also are being raised in Hinckley! Her roots run deep, as well as her love for her town, Hinckley, Illinois.
